The KSS Night Owl Theatre Presents Charlotte's Web

Kelowna, B.C. –

The Kelowna Secondary School Night Owl Theatre presents "Charlotte's Web", written by Joseph Robinette and adapted from the book by E.B. White.

Based on the classic children's novel, Kelowna Secondary School's production of Charlotte's Web brings alive all of the familiar characters while exploring the importance of friendship and perseverance. The play follows the tale of Wilbur the Pig from when he is rescued by Fern Arable, to his life on the Zuckerman Farm, to his rise to fame as "some pig." Theatre-goers will delight in seeing Templeton the Rat, Charlotte the Spider, and the rest of the barnyard animals. Soon Wilbur discovers the harsh reality of life, and the importance of having a friend like Charlotte. It is Charlotte who saves the day when she begins to write compliments about him in her web. Quickly the whole town begins to notice, and treats Wilbur like a prize pig. Audiences both big and small will laugh and cry with the many memorable moments that make this story so well-loved.
