SCHOOL DISTRICT

News and Information

Schools Closed – Tuesday, January 6, 2015

Kelowna, B.C.

While weather conditions did improve somewhat overnight, reports from throughout the Central Okanagan School District indicate that it is still unsafe to open our schools today. Maintenance crews and contractors providing snow removal services have informed us that most side streets and sidewalks have not been plowed and many remain unsafe for either vehicular or pedestrian traffic. Our hope is that with more favorable weather forecasted for today, crews will be able to catch up with the large amount of snow removal that has to happen so that students can walk safely to school and most buses will be able to operate.

Once again, we thank our parent community for their understanding in making alternate arrangements for their children for today, and we look forward to hopefully being able to reopen our schools on Wednesday, January 7th.

Updates will continue to be provided on the School District website – www.sd23.bc.ca.
