I am sad to see the bullying of school board member Amy Geislinger, who represents we, in LC who have a different opinion than Wilber Turner. I applaud Amy for her integrity and courage and I hope that the rest of the board is ashamed of themselves for allowing an invited guest to disrespect our elected board member through the press. If you, the board, want people to be respectful of your beliefs then you must respect the opinions of people with differing views. This is a very poor example that you have set for the students of our school district. Do you really believe there is no room for diversity of opinion? You are held to a higher standard as you are board members, I feel you owe the constituents and Amy an apology for inviting a guest that has not demonstrated professional behaviour while at this event. Respectfully Heidi LeBlanc
